STAINLESS STEEL COLLAR PLATES AND ID TAGS

Our famous die-formed stainless steel collar plates are by far the most superior collar plates available. Much stronger than brass and does not corrode like brass. Stainless steel die-formed SlipCheck plates do not bend, break or hang on wire fences because the edges are turned down and lie tight against the collar material. They virtually last forever and can be transferred from collar to collar. Deeply stamped, permanent letters and numbers identify your valuable dogs. These nameplates for use on leather collars, DayGlo® collars, Permalon collars, training collars, etc. Not for use on chain collars.

9NP Die-formed stainless steel nameplate, 5/8" x 2 1/2" (includes rivets).....$2.75

Stainless steel identification tags are made of heavy stainless steel discs, stamped and polished; then fitted with a heavy s-hook. These are the finest tags available. Good for any type of collar – chain, leather, DayGlo®, Permalon, training collars, etc.

One day while rabbit hunting, the dogs wandered off for the longest time. After tirelessly waiting and searching for them, a friend found the dogs and informed us where to find them. The gentleman who found the dogs said they were on the highway and the main reason he spotted them was because of their DayGlo® collars.

Ever since this incident, approximately 15 years ago, I will not use any other collar on my precious dogs. The best hunting dog I ever had was one of the dogs lost that day, and I believe it was thanks to her collar I got her back safe and sound. If she hadn't been wearing your collar, I believe I would have never seen her again.

Many times since, my dogs have gone missing while in the woods, mainly for a day or two, but I always seem to get them back because my name is conveniently located on the collar.

I want to thank you for making such a great collar. They certainly have saved the day and my dogs many times! I will continue to use your collars for many years to come.
